Looking Closely In The Rain Forest

Synopsis

Look closely. Look very closely. Is it ... chestnuts? Sea coral? Just turn the page and, lo and behold, it's a zebra tarantula. Colorful wonders await in the rain forest, including a red-eyed tree frog, a moth orchid and many more. Children will learn about a variety of animals and plants in this interactive book that encourages imagination and instills a respect for the natural environment.

Customer Reviews

“What do you see?” In a guessing game that pairs close-up details with large images on the following page, this title in the Looking Closely series spotlights life in the tropical rain forest, including a squirrel monkey, a banana plant, a moth orchid, and a scarlet macaw. The crisp, beautiful photos and the interactive text will draw kids into both the interactive fun and scientific facts, and a final, stirring, double-page spread of the rain forest shows a wide view of where the featured animals and plants live. The astonishing detail will have kids turning back to the small close-ups for repeated viewings. Preschool-Grade 3. --Hazel Rochman

Great book

The pictures and information are truly captivating. This is a great resource for learning. The book arrived on time and in great condition.

no leaks, my love They shipped quickly, goods packaging is also very fine, This works so much better than I thought it would. You can't do better for the price. if you want an economical and cost items will never miss it. Not well made Just as described and worked great... Thanks Not fantastic but fine. I would buy this again!

What I love about Frank Serafini's Looking Closely books is the photography and the clever way just a peek is given before the whole picture is revealed. What better way to grab a child's attention! Your child will be memorizing rain forest facts in no time. Perfect for studying biomes. - Biblio Reads Children's Book Review
