Customer Reviews

Buffy Silverman is the author of many books about nature and science for children. She also enjoys writing poetry for children. Buffy is lucky to live in a rural area of Michigan where inspiration is just outside the window. The sun shimmers on Stony Lake. A great blue heron flies low over the swamp. Black squirrels scamper across oak branches, stuffing leaves in their mouths and bringing them to a hollow. The animals that share her yard inspire stories and poems. With every book and article she writes, she learns more about the world.

Great book for children interested in monster trucks.

My grandson loves this book.

My 3 year old is obsessed with monster trucks and loves for me to read him this book. I feel the content is very age appropriate and does a nice job describing the functions of monster trucks. Happy with my purchase!

Item as described, no issues with the ordering process. Great product.
