THE WILDERNESS TRAIL (A Western Classic)

Synopsis

Donald MacTavish is the newly appointed head commissioner of the Hudson's Bay Company. This promotion infuriates MacTavish's rival Angus Fitzpatrick who had wanted the job. Fitzpatrick takes his anger and resentment out on MacTavish and then sets out to get MacTavish fired. On the other hand, Fitzpatrick accuses MacTavish of stealing furs that were actually stolen by a group of thieving traders led by Sergius. And to complicate matters, both MacTavish and Sergius are in love with Fitzpatrick's young daughter Jeanne! The book was also adapted into a 1919 Hollywood silent film whose prints are now lost. Excerpt: "Donald MacTavish glared down into the heavy, ugly face of his superior—a face that concealed behind its mask of dignity emotions as potent and lasting as the northland that bred them. "I accuse you of nothing." Fitzpatrick pawed his white beard. "I only know that a great quantity of valuable furs, trapped in your district, have not been turned in to me here at the factory. It is to explain this discrepancy that I have called you down by dogs in the dead of winter..." Francis William Sullivan was an author of western fiction.

Customer Reviews

As I was reading this book it was clear to me that it was written in a "by-gone-era". There were times when it was fairly good but not so much in others. I guess to me it was not believable enough. It wasn't a bad book but it just wasn't "action" enough!

Very interesting. Reminded me of Call of the Wild and the wilderness adventures. This novel keeps you involved from the start.

It took me about halfway thru before I really got into the story. The first half was a little slow but once I got into it I really enjoyed it.

It's a good old read. It has action, romance and description of the country side.

The characters are very interesting and the descriptions of how they lived are very interesting and the personalities of are very good good reading.

Enjoyed the book.

I enjoyed this book very much. It held my attention.
