Customer Reviews

Instilling a robust faith in our kids can feel like a daunting task, especially at a time when the culture constantly casts doubt on the claims of Scripture. In this devotional especially for teens, renowned apologetics teacher Josh McDowell provides clear answers to the questions today's young people are asking about life, faith, and truth.

• Jim Daly, President of Focus on the Family "Truth is defined as sincerity in action, character, and utterance. The need for these characteristics might be needed more now than ever before in our lives. Josh McDowell's #Truth connects life and faith for teens in a very natural way. Not only will they come to know real truths, but they will also learn how to live them out in their everyday lives. I highly recommend this daily devotional!

•Dan Cathy, CEO Chick-fil-A "I greatly appreciate this devotional collection of truth nuggets by Josh. Each day they point to truth and whet the appetite for greater study of the Bible.

•Daryl Nuss, CEO National Network of Youth Ministries "#Truth inspires students to know the truths of God and how to effectively apply them in their everyday lives. Josh McDowell's daily devotions will deepen teenagers' faith walks and challenge them to share the truths of God with others.

•Greg Stier, Founder and CEO of Dare 2 Share Ministries "It is with great enthusiasm that I recommend the devotional book #Truth for students and all those who are imprinting on this generation.

•Dr. Jay Strack, President and Founder of Student Leadership University, YPS, and Lift Tour "Passing the Christian faith on to youth is one of the most important tasks of the church today, and no one is more solidly at the forefront of this mission than Josh McDowell. His new devotional book is ideal for getting students into the Bible and for helping them apply God's truth daily. I highly recommend #TRUTH: 365 Devotions for Teens Connecting Life and Faith by the most trusted voice in apologetics and outreach to young people, Josh McDowell.

•Alex McFarland, Director of Apologetics and Christian Worldview at North Greenville University in Tigerville, South Carolina "McDowell discusses sanctification, justification, and predestination in a way that teens will easily grasp, making applications with which they can readily identify. For teens, and even young adults, looking for a daily devotional, this has all the elements to equip them for action." (Elizabeth Wisz Christian Market 2017-07-19)

Truth Is. . . 365 Youth Devotions
 Connecting Life and Faith will lead you to understand the truths of God and how living them out is beneficial in your everyday life. I like how the devotions are organized by a different topic each month. It gives a nice flow to the book. Josh McDowell starts with the truth that God exists, to Christ's Atonement for our sins, and finishes up with the truth of God's Return. Each day has a Bible verse that reinforces that month's theme, then has a short section engaging in thoughts or example and end with a Truth is section and short prayer. I would recommend this book to teens. I think they will really enjoy it. I received a complimentary copy of this book from Barbour Publishing and was under no obligation to post a review.

#Truth365 Devotions for Teens
 Connecting Life and Faith
 By Josh McDowell
 Looking for a devotional that will take you through the year? Well, #Truth from Josh McDowell just might be what you are looking for. Each month is themed meaning the devotions fall under this theme. And as a point of note #Truth has 29 days in February so you can read this devotional any year. Though this devotional is targeted at teens the messages are of importance to all who want to learn more about God and the truth about Him. each day is a whole page - no shared pages or days with this devotional. What is each month's focus you ask? Here is a brief synopsis along with the stated theme at the beginning of each month.

January = An Awesome God
 The power of God over life and nature and His holy and pure being are examined.

February = Totally Inspired
 God's words won't change or end while this world exists and we can know His thoughts through the Bible, which reveals all we need to know.

March = You Choose
 Sin is a choice and we need to determine if we will choose to follow and trust God or choose the separation that sin brings.

April = He Entered My World
 Jesus gave up His divine powers to experience life as us so that we would have the chance to know eternal life and freedom from sin's deadly consequences.

May = The Price of Forgiveness
 Humanity's redemption was at the cost of Jesus' death and His temporary separation from God as He took our sins upon Himself.

June = The Power to Save
 Salvation is a gift from God, not something we can boast of earning. God alone has this power, He is the only way to salvation and life after death if we accept His gift. July = A New Person Accepting God's gift makes us want to change, to be who we were meant to be if sin hadn't had an effect on us. August = No End in Death Death was the sacrifice that Jesus made to save us, but His death would have been meaningless if He had not risen from death. He conquered sin and death with His resurrection. September = Empowered The Spirit of God (Holy Spirit) was the internal presence of God in the life of those who believed (trusted) that Jesus was the Son of God. This presence identifies us as being with God and allows us to exhibit spiritual gifts. October = How You View the World A relationship with God changes how we see our place in the world, we view ourselves as members of a kingdom that has not yet come, to our perspective, in a physical sense, a kingdom free of sin and death. November = Real Community The true Church is not a building but rather all believers (think how all the different parts of your body make up you) the same is true of the Church. We are there to comfort and to encourage one another and be thankful for ALL He has done for us. December = Waiting for His Return After He arose from His death Jesus ascended into Heaven (which can be a difficult concept to fully understand). He remains there today waiting for us while preparing a new home that is without sin, sorrow, or pain. This is a perfect start or end to your day - a way to learn more about God and His gift given freely to any willing to accept it. The devotionals passages are not overwhelming in giving too much, but rather a small portion perfect for reflection and examination upon finishing. "#Truth 365 Devotions for Teens Connecting LIFE and FAITH" by author Josh McDowell is a paperback one year devotion for teenagers. Published by Barbour it is packed full of inspiration for middle and high schoolers. The cover is plain white and to the point: #truth. Teens don't want a lot of extras. Just get to the point with them. Author McDowell has written a lot of books. He relates well to family and children, having four kids and ten grandkids of his own. This devotional shows how he knows teens and to talk to them. In this book, each month takes on a different truth or topic. All twelve of them are things teenagers ask about and wonder. The daily devotions themselves are only one page long. Long enough to make a point and short enough to fit into a busy schedule or maintain interest. The date and title is at the top of the page. Next comes a scripture reading, the questions, truth is answer, and a prayer closes the day. It is simple, easy, and powerful. McDowell takes faith and life for teenagers and joins them together. He presents truth and answers questions that will assist in spiritual growth and everyday walk with God. This is a well written, organized, thought provoking book. It will encourage, enlighten, and engage all readers. Topics are relevant.

Each month a truth is discussed. Here is a sampling of the first quarter. January: The Truth That God Exists February: ...About God's Word March: ...About Original Sin April: ...About God Becoming Human I, as a grandmother, even enjoyed and was inspired by this book. On my grandmother's birthday the devotion was about not worrying. "Give Worries Away." That is something everyone struggles with from time to time, and my grandmother would often say not to worry. It was extra special to read that message on what would have been her birthday. The devotion was great, too. There is nothing in this book except one page devotions. No acknowledgements, nothing about the author, no group study questions. The first page starts January, An Awesome God and the last page is December 31 Forever Grateful. This is for broadening a relationship with Abba. I highly recommend it. It would be the perfect Christmas gift, birthday gift, or just because gift. A 5 out of 5 star rating from me for this awesome book! I received a complimentary copy of this book from Barbour Publishing and was under no obligation to post a review.
