Champagne & Sparkling Wine: Grape Goddess Guides To Good Living

Synopsis

"Panache doesn't begin to describe the sight of Catherine Fallis sabering a bottle of Champagne. She steps forward in a black evening gown sliced thigh-high, her face framed by cool black shades, her chestnut mane sweeping across her milky shoulders. She dons a pair of python-patterned opera gloves. She draws the black-handled saber, inhales, and then lifts the Champagne skyward. A few quick strokes of the blade sever the neck and cork from the bottle, and they sail serenely away."

--Jonathan L. Wright, Reno Gazette-Journal, 13 April 2004 Learn the basics with your very own, very straightforward grape goddess, Catherine Fallis. No boring history lessons ("Yawn") or wine geek speak ("Don't make me send out the Wine Police!") here. Put your palate to the test with Sensual Experience Exercises. Get the inside scoop on getting the best deals. Learn from a pro how to select the best bubbly for two--or for two hundred! Everyone yearns for la dolce vita, the sweet life. ## Customer Reviews

The fifth woman in the world to become a Master Sommelier, grape goddess Catherine Fallis is still very much down to earth. Wanderlust and hunger for the finer things in life have transformed this tough young girl from the hood into a delightfully cultured, refined, entertaining, and passionate storyteller.

I bought this book looking to expand my knowledge about my favourite drink. Instead I felt extremely ripped off as most of the 60 odd pages were less than half full of type and most comments about champagne methods or styles were trivial and lacking in detail, yet far too much detail provided on what she had drunk and with whom. Perhaps this would have been better presented as a blog or article/essay - it certainly was not worth $12.
